ISO 14001
IMPLEMENTATION

Molly is an environmental consultant and RABQSA-certified ISO 14001 lead auditor with 15 years of experience in environmental management.

Her clients include both private and public organizations and range from the U.S. government and Fortune 500 companies to local municipalities and small businesses.

She helped U.S. Steel implement and register their ISO 14001 program and continues to assist many types of industry, including steel/automotive-related, with environmental compliance and EMS implementation. Molly also assisted the US Air Force Reserves in implementing an ISO-14001-based EMS program, and also worked on the Green Procurement and Sustainable Development programs.

In addition to consulting, Molly has conducted hundreds of third-party ISO 14001 registration audits. She has been contracted with an accredited registrar since 2002. She has also conducted ISO 9001:2000 and OSHAS 18001 audits. She develops and teaches accredited and non-accredited implementation and auditing courses for independent training companies and registrars.

Molly's background is unique to most ISO auditors: her career has been based in environmental rather than quality management. Before starting her own environmental consulting firm (A.W.E. Consulting, Inc.) in 2000, she worked for the state of Indiana as a hazardous waste inspector, and, previous to that, as a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers park ranger.

As both an auditor and consultant with expertise in the application of environmental requirements, she brings a balanced, common-sense approach to ISO 14001.

A graduate of Oklahoma State University with a degree in Wildlife Ecology, and many additional professional certifications, she is based near Chicago, IL.
